

ENOCH LORENZO WAUGH

(Wilbur C. Morrison, in Clarksburg-Exponent.)

The buffalo chase of other days is something the modern big game hunter in these parts knows nothing about. Few men living in this state ever engaged in the hunt for the great American bison. Enoch Lorenzo Waugh, 88, retired merchant and farmer who lives in the little hamlet, Vandalia, on mail route 2 out of Roanoke, Lewis county is an exception.

Waugh recalls the day when he not only chased buffalo, but killed them and ate their meat. He and his brother, John W. Waugh, now dead, hunted and killed them on the plains of Nebraska more than fifty years ago. As he recalls it, they scored nine to their credit.

Enoch Waugh went west a few years after he had served in the Civil war as a Union soldier and on the plains he hunted as a pastime, particularly buffaloes for the sport of it and for their meat. In that early day their shaggy manes as well as their hides were useless and were left for the dogs, as he puts it. The meat of the buffalo, he says, was as sweet and tender as any beef could be.

The Waugh family of West Virginia, looks to Pocahontas county, this state, as the region of its origin. Some of its early members were born there at a time antedating the American revolution by many years. James

There was so the second marriage father of thirteen children.

The Waugh family of West Virginia, looks to Pocahontas county, this state, as the region of its origin. Some of its early members were born there at a time antedating the American revolution by many years. James Waugh, a progenitor of the American born of the name, came from his native land, Scotland, to America in 1739, and located in Virginia, presumably Pocahontas county. His son, James Waugh, Jr., married Sarah Rebecca McGuire, whose ancestry consisted of persons of Irish and Scotch lineage. They were the parents of a number of sons and daughters, namely, Lorenzo, Allen, Morgan, James and Samuel, Nereus Jacob, Rachel, Elizabeth Ann and Nancy, most of whom had descendants, now scattered all over the country.

James Waugh, Jr., was a soldier in the American revolution. He died in 1812. Among his sons, Lorenzo became the most prominent, as he was a noted Methodist Episcopal preacher. He was born August 28, 1808, in Pocahontas county. Jacob Waugh, another son, was born March 8, 1812, the same year his father died. He was the grandfather of Enoch L. Waugh, the buffalo hunter.

The aged man has made two trips to the West. He and his first wife went on an excursion trip in the summer of 1871 to Omaha, Neb., and were so taken with the country they moved to Republican City, that state three months later, where they took up a homestead of 160 acres when offered by the government to settlers. Misfortune overtook them and they remained there only long enough to comply with ownership requirements as stipulated by the federal government. Then selling their homestead they returned to West Virginia with the homesickness of a pair of 'kids.' They lived in Nebraska about a year and a half.

The second summer they were there when the crops were nearing maturity, a heavy hailstorm literally destroyed them and they became so disheartened that they sold out cheap and started on the long journey home. They drove a team of horses all the way from Republican City to Buckhannon with the wagon containing all their worldly goods. The distance covered was about 1,500 miles and

My wife did most of the driving and looked after the team until we reached West Virginia when we engaged a man to drive for us to Buckhannon. Waugh's buffalo hunting party was headed by Hiram Waugh, also a Civil war veteran, but not related to the other Waugh and the third member of the party, John W. Waugh. On one of these hunting expeditions, the men became lost in a fearful snow-storm and wandered aimlessly about on the Nebraska plains two days and three nights before they were able to find their way home. They were not so very far from their home when the storm overtook them, but losing their way they traveled many miles and would have perished had they not accidentally stumbled into a dugout house, where they spent a part of the third night.

The storm was so terrific, the cold so severe and day and night so dark, almost like a dungeon that they were almost dead when they reached the dugout. They traveled in circles three times coming back each time to a point they had passed. Finally they turned their backs on the storm, came to a spring they well knew and were able to locate the dugout and later home. The hailstorm which destroyed his corn and potato crops was equally severe.

The Civil war veteran is a Republican politically. He cast his first vote for Abraham Lincoln in the fall of 1864 while in the army in Virginia, soldiers being permitted to vote in camp. He has voted the Republican ticket ever since.

Asked about his famous minister-uncle, Lorenzo Waugh, the aged man said he had never seen him. Some forty years ago when the preacher came back home from the west he preached at Buckhannon, but his father, at whose home the minister was a guest, did not let him know of his presence and he did not know he had preached in Buckhannon until he read about it later in one of the Buckhannon papers. The minister had left on the homeward journey then and never returned to his native state.

Brief allusion to the life of the Rev. Lorenzo Waugh is not amiss here. As stated, he was born August 28, 1808, in Pocahontas county, this state; then Virginia. He attended the schools of his county and in 1832 the Ohio Methodist Episcopal conference received him on trial as a itinerant preacher, and appointed him to the Nicholas circuit in Virginia. In 1835, he was ordained, and transferred to the Missouri conference. He remained there several years and was made an elder.

When the minister's health failed in 1851, he moved with his family to Petaluma, Sonoma county, Calif., where he preached for the first Methodist congregation ever assembled in the Sacramento valley, it is said. He died at his home there in 1898.

POAGES

This is part of an article on the Poage family in Virginia. Two brothers, Robert and John "proved their importation at their own charges" at Orange Courthouse in 1740. The Pocahontas Poages are the descendants of Robert Poage, who settled between Staunton and Fort Defiance. His wife was Elizabeth Preston. An account of the Poages is given in Price's Historical Sketches of Pocahontas County," but this article gives some interesting information—From a Staunton Newspaper.

The Poage family was a prominent one in and near Staunton, Virginia, in the years following the arrival of the first members as pioneer settlers, two hundred and more years ago.

One of them, Colonel James Poage, left Staunton, went to Kentucky, and then to Ohio, where he founded a new town he called Staunton. Later the name was changed to Ripley. This caused us to do some personal research at this end of the line.

We visited the old and new cemeteries at Fort Defiance, both associated with Old Stone Presbyterian Church, to see how many readable stones marked the graves of members of the Poage family. We found, too, that occasionally the name was spelled Poague.

As pointed out there are two cemeteries at Fort Defiance: The one near the church and a much older burial ground east of the present mans. Whether an early, frame church once stood near the older cemetery

In this older cemetery, which is enclosed with a sturdy stone wall and the grass within the enclosure well kept are several stones bearing the name Poage or Poague. Some of these inscriptions include:

NOTE: The long campaign cannot be told here. After Corbin's defeat and death at Point Pleasant on 10 October 1774, Logan's capture, etc. Will close with Logan's speech, which has been verified from affidavits of Andrew Rodgers, William Russell and others who were present. It is a classic in frontier oratory. All were greatly impressed by the chieftain's eloquence, command of word, his clear distinct voice, his peculiar emphasis and his singularly grand and majestic, and yet graceful bearing. They afterwards said that his oratory fully equalled that of Patrick Henry himself. It should be given a more public place in American history.

LOGAN'S SPEECH: "I appeal to any white man to say if ever he entered Logan's cabin hungry and he gave him not meat; if ever he came cold and naked and he clothed him not? During the course of the last long and bloody war, Logan remained idle in his camp, an advocate for peace. Such was my love for the whites that my countrymen pointed as I passed and said, 'Logan the friend of the white man'. I had even thought to have lived with you, but for the injuries of one man, Colonel Cresap, the last spring, in cold blood and unprovoked, murdered all the relations of Logan, not even sparing my women and children. There runs not a drop of blood in the veins of any living creature. This called on me for revenge. I have sought it. I have killed many. I have fully glutted my vengeance. For my country I rejoice at the beams of peace; but do not harbor a thought that mine is the joy of fear. Logan never felt fear. He will not turn on his heel to save his life. Who is there to mourn for Logan? Not one."

With Logan's speech, it is said that Lord Dunmore's war was over; it lasted less than six months. It is more than likely that when the colonies achieved their freedom they would have found their western boundary fixed at the Allegheny Mountains. Upon the return to their homes the backwoodsmen found the news from Congress then meeting in Philadelphia. Many went to the war of Independence and saw long service in the Continental Army. They were George Washington's "MEN FROM WEST AUGUSTA".

THE WAUGHS OF POCAHONTAS COUNTY WEST VIRGINIA

In trying to write a clear, concise report on the Waugh clan prior to the establishment and known lives of James 1st and his wife Mary, is nothing but sheer guess work, but from the known records and early history and papers that cover the period 1700 to 1775 that are in existence today, the following will have to be assumed as reasonably correct in a fictional way.

The Scotch-Irish started arriving in the new world about 1700 but the larger ingress was from 1730 to 1750, this is established fact. Elsewhere in this paper you have read about these people, how and why they came to America, and where they settled.

From Philadelphia, where the Waugh's (and McGuire's) landed in in this country---there is a direct path southeastward through Maryland and Virginia to Pocahontas County. There are two Waugh Chapel's in Maryland which must have been started or inspired by people that gave their name to the chapel. In Virginia during the 1770's we find a Rev. Abner Waugh--who must have been a member of the same clan as ours. His father must have settled near there. Perhaps he was a brother or other kinsman of Captain George Waugh, Revolutionary war officer, who may have been the father of James 1. - or it may have been William Waugh who served under Captain Robert Adams--was the father of James 1.

or he could have been his brother. We do know that there was a James Waugh in Lewis' army at Point Pleasant, and it is probably the same James Waugh I (to us) who went on to the war for Independence. His childrens age and dates of birth will give some light on this subject as their ages are spaced to conform with his military life.

James Waugh enlisted for three years in the Revolution, 1777-1780. He survived the conflict, for he and his wife were defendants in a lawsuit brought in the year 1780, a fact that is established by the records of the county courts of Augusta County. At the date of his enlistment he was a married man with four children. As such he was entitled to an appropriation from the county funds, 16 December 1777, his wife being allowed the sum of twenty-five pounds, 17 November 1778
she was again allowed the sum of twenty-five pounds, 17 November 1779 she was allowed the sum of sixty pounds.

* About his four children it must be assumed that there were two girls and two boys. The two boys James II, and Samuel remaining home and raising their own family.

At this time James Waugh I, was living in Augusta County, at some place near Cloverlick, now Pocahontas County, West Virginia. It is believed he lived about four miles below Cloverlick, or it could have been in the Hills on the trail between Jacksons River and Clover-lick. Any way we do know that James Waugh I settled in this general vicinity.

* Recent data found on James the first, his children, James 2nd, Samuel and Jane. There is a probability that his other daughters name was Elizabeth.

James Waugh, the first, as we know had four children, two of them being boys, James II and Samuel. His wife was named Mary. We know nothing about Mary, and there has never been anything mentioned about her family name. After searching the records I have come up with only two Marys from this vicinity, as follows: (I merely add the following for what it is worth).

20 May 1761, Augusta County parish Vestry Book, page 332, an orphan, Mary Garvin, is bound to Andrew Sittlington and his wife. The record shows him living on the Greenbrier near the Warwicks.
Orphans during this period were bound out when there were no relatives to take care of them. Today this practice is known as adoption.

On 17 Feb. 1762, at a County Court of Augusta County, the following order was made. Ordered that the following orphans be bound out, William Meek to William Warwick, Mary Meek to Andrew Sitlingto Margaret to James Walker; James Meek to William Wilson; Jane Meek to Moses Moore. (All these given names appear again in the names of Samuel and Ann Waugh's children).

There is on record another Mary, eligible inasmuch as she had some land, protected by court order. She was Mary Gregory, widow of Naphthalam Gregory, who died about 1762. On August 18 1762 his wife Mary, qualified as Administratrix of her deceased husband Naphthalam Gregory", she left a son James Gregory, part of the land.

We do know that one of James Waugh's son or grandchild was before the County Court of Augusta County with proof and posted bond that the Waugh's had paid their own passage from Europe to Philadelphia.
There is no mention as to who this Waugh was nor when he arrived in this country. No doubt they had in those times they had words such as bound, slave etc., such as schoolbys now use : wop, limey etc. This probably enraged James' grandson or son to the point where he took the above action such as a person might nowadays take by being naturalized. Should one of the above Marys had been the wife of James Waugh the first, I am sure there is no one living today that would take offense to the fact.

The Warwicks and Waughs were friends throughout their lives and in the following pages there are many times when they came in close contact with their daily doings. James Waugh came to what is now Pocahontas County unmarried, he may have sought counsel from Captain Warwick, married one of the Marys above and settled near Cloverlick close to his friend.

NOTE: Should any one have another suggestion about this would be more than glad to hear from them./glv

James Waugh, 1st, and his wife Mary were the parents of four children of which we have data on three, James Waugh 2nd, the oldest son, Samuel the youngest son and Jane Waugh, who was Timothy McCarty's second wife. There is nothing on record as to the date of James' birth, but he died in 1831, the same year his brother Samuel died.

James Waugh 2nd, was married to Rebecca McGuire, they were the parents of twelve children. The following ten children are all that we have data on at the present time. Their names are:

Rachel	Morgan
Elizabeth	Allen
Nancy	Isabella
James 3rd	Marcus
Jacob	Lorenzo

About the life of James Waugh 2nd, have uncovered the following: He lived on the Greenbrier River and evidently had a smaller farm in the Hills, the land along the river must have been part of his father's land and he called this The Plantation. His will was probated in Augusta County court in 1831, in which he provides: "That land be sold and the proceeds used to educate his children." Another clause in his will was, "I desire that my rifle gun be kept for the entire use of my plantation."

He was a member of the first court to sit in Pocahontas county and his presence at the August term of court in 1822 bears this out. He was a close neighbor and friend of Major Jacob Warwick, of Cloverlick. It was on evidence of James Waugh and P. Bruffey who appeared in court that a section of Jacob Warwick's will was carried out freeing his famous servant Ben. Warwick's will was dated 7 March 1818.

In 1800 the records show about 150 families living in Pocahontas County, Samuel and James Waugh 2nd being two of them.

CHILDREN OF JAMES WAUGH 2nd.

Rachel was married to Frederick Fleming.

Elizabeth was married to John Ratliffe and lived on Clover Creek.

Nancy married Abraham Griffin and lived on Buckley Mountain, she had a daughter who married Claiborne McNeill, and lived near Buckeye.

Jacob (grandfather of Judge Waugh of Upshur County) married Mary Brown, daughter of Josiah Brown of Indian Draft, and moved to Upshur

Elizabeth Waugh was born in Pocahontas County, in the Hills country, on the place. Samuel Waugh's family are listed that position for many years. Jacob Waugh's five children were, four boys, Brown, Enoch, Homer and John William. One daughter Leah who was the third wife of Dr. Pleasant Smith of Edray. His wife, Mary Brown was born 13 April 1812.

James Waugh 3rd married Sally, the oldest daughter of John Cochran, and lived on the Greenbrier at the old homestead. His second wife was Hannah Lamb, from Highland County. Details of James Waugh will be found in Hardesty's Encyclopedia.

Morgan Waugh went to Kanawha County.

Allen Waugh settled in Missouri.

Isabella Waugh married John Brock and settled in Kanawha County.

Marcus Waugh, the youngest son, married Susan Johnson. They settled down on a farm adjoining the Waugh homestead higher up the river a few miles east of Poage's Lane.

Lorenzo Waugh, the most noted son of James Waugh 2nd, lived a very eventful life. His autobiography was published in San Francisco upon his death there in 1899; he was born in 1808. Some events of his life will be set down here. He wrote several books that had wide church distribution.

He wrote the following in the biography of his life; "There was one man in our neighborhood who was called rich, having, I think, over a hundred slaves, and I wish to mention him as he and his family were real friends to me- Father Jacob Warwick. His daughter Betsy (Elizabeth Warwick who married Col. Woods) used to come to our house and give me lessons, and with her I learned to read and write before I ever went a day to school."

Once in his youth, Lorenzo, was at a house raising in the vicinity of Cloverlick, and won a footrace against another youth--disliked by Mr. Warwick. The outcome of the race so pleased Mr. Warwick that he gave young Lorenzo a fine young mare. During the greater part of his circuit riding days he used horses that were the offspring of the colt he had received from Mr. Warwick.

The turning point in Lorenzo Waugh's life was seeing a statement in a newspaper that a man in a distant place was willing to assist some boy in getting an education to prepare him for the ministry. He answered the letter and was told that the place had been given another boy, but the germ had been sown. He left home and went to Harrison County and proceeded to carry out his plan on his own resources. He worked for his board and went to school. And he had not been there long until the teacher was discharged for drunkenness and Lorenzo Waugh was selected to take his place. From that time on he was engaged in professional duties as a teacher, preacher, missionary and author.

He was sixteen when he was a teacher in Harrison County. He was a teacher in Mason County in 1831, entered the Methodist ministry in that year, and was junior preacher on the Guyandotte circuit. In 1833 he rode the Nicholas County circuit, and was transferred to the Ohio Conference in 1834. In 1835 he became a member of the Missouri Conference. On one of his Missouri circuits he met Miss Clarissa Jane Edsall, and they were married. In 1837 Lorenzo Waugh was an Indian missionary to the Shawnee Nation. In 1840 he rode the Platte River circuit, now in Nebraska, and in 1848 he entered the Illinois Conference. In 1851 with his family he crossed the plains and settled in the Petaluma Valley, in California, where he resided until his death.

Upon his marriage, Samuel and Ann settled in the Hills country, on the old homestead, now called the Shrader place. Samuel Waugh's family are listed in the first 150 groups in Pocahontas County.

Elizabeth Waugh was married to Gabel Knapp, and first settled in Greenbrier County, lived a while on Knapps Creek, then settled on the Greenbrier River, known as the Knapp place. We know they had at least seven children: Ann, Nancy, Eleanor, Margaret, Elizabeth, Mary and John.

Robert Waugh never married. From exposure on damp ground he contracted a rheumatic affection that disabled him for manual labor. He became a school teacher. Robert seems to have been gifted with fine oratorical powers, for it is said that no person could beat him speaking when he got warmed up--- on any subject. He died comparatively young at the old homestead. In his lonely grave amid the Hills a tongue is silent that may have enraptured listening audiences and secured for Robert an illustrious name.

William Waugh married Martha Brown, born 14 Feb. 1808, daughter of Josiah Brown, near Indian Draft. She was the sister of Jacob Waugh's wife. Jacob being his first cousin. William and Martha were the parents of ten children. They first settled in Upshur County, thence went to Iowa, and afterwards moved to Missouri. William Waugh was struck by a train in 1894 and died in forty minutes. He was 84 years old when he died.

Margaret Waugh was married to Samuel Martin. They first settled in Upshur County, then moved to Iowa.

Mary Ann Waugh married Reuben Buzzard, Jr., and lived near the old Buzzard place at Glade Hill. Afterwards Mr. Buzzard purchased Dilley's Mill and lived there a considerable while, then moved to Iowa. They were the parents of four children- Arthelia, Rachel, Samuel and Adolphus. Samuel was a prominent physician in Lucas County, Iowa.

Alexander Sinclair Waugh married Annie Cochran, of the Levels, and settled in Nicholas County.

Arthur Waugh went ~~west~~ in early manhood to Kanawha, where he married Henrietta Boswell and settled there.

Jacob Waugh married Sarah Ann Gay, youngest daughter of the late Samuel M. Gay, near Marlinton, and first settled at the Waugh homestead. They lived a while in Barbour County. Jacob then returned to Pocahontas County and took charge of the Duffield Mill, near Edray, where he died. S. D. Waugh, his son, operated the mill after the death of his father.

Andrew Waugh, nodate, lived to be 46 years old.

Rachel Jane Waugh died at the age of nineteen.

Beverly Hugh Waugh, the youngest of the large family, married Martha Ann Bradshaw, daughter of William Bradshaw, on Brown's Creek. He lived many years on the place that was later occupied by his cousin, Robert Shrader. Mr. Beverly Hugh Waugh was an estimable man. He led the Mount Zion class for sixteen years, and yielded the position to the regent of his christian brethren when it became necessary to change homes. He then moved to the Levels. He left an honorable reputation as a gentleman and a christian. Miss Lizzie S. Waugh visited her Aunt Martha at Academy (now Hillsboro) in November 1892.

Rev. John Waugh was born 19 June 1805. On 17 November 1831 he was married to Martha Moore, who was born 22 February 1811. They had eleven children, six sons and five daughters. They built their home on Miss Susie McCarty and her brothers, James H. and Thomas, teachers in the public schools, are the grandchildren of Jacob McCarty. Their parents Samuel and Elizabeth McCarty of Bruffey's Creek.

Martha (Waugh) McCarty, no data on this granddaughter of James Waugh, the first.

Thus far we have covered two children of James Waugh the first. James the 2nd and one of his two daughters Jane, who married the above McCarty. It is my belief that his second daughter was the Elizabeth Waugh (unmarried) who died in 1796. This the remaining son is Samuel Waugh, my great-great-grand-father. Of this branch of the Waugh family it is my good fortune to have the dates of births, deaths and marriages for three generations. Will now try to set down all that I have about Samuel Waugh, youngest son of James the First.

SAMUEL WAUGH AND ANN MCGUIRE, HIS WIFE.

Samuel Waugh, was born 10 June 1774, and died 2 July 1831.
Ann McGuire, was born 20 Oct. 1779, and died 19 Aug. 1847.

Samuel and Ann were married on 19 Jan. 1802 and had fourteen children, nine sons and five daughters.

Samuel Waugh and his wife Ann, imbued with the faith and energy so peculiar to the genuine Scotch-Irish, endured all that is implied in rearing a family of fourteen sons and daughters, and all living to be adults. The sons all lived to be grown, and not one was ever known to use tobacco or ardent spirits in any form. Samuel Waugh was one of the original members of the old Mount Zion Church- one of the strong holds of its denomination for so many years. His history shows that in the face of pioneer hindrances and privations sons and daughters may be reared that may faithfully serve God and support their country in their day and generation.

so dear to the hearts of all of us.

Very sincerely yours,

DEATH OF MISS ELIZABETH S. WAUGH, AS REPORTED IN THE POCAHONTAS TIMES.

Miss Elizabeth S. Waugh, aged 77 years, passed away on Saturday afternoon, 5 June 1948, at the Pocahontas Memorial Hospital. She had been in failing health for the past several months. On Monday afternoon her body was laid to rest in the family plot in Mountain View Cemetery. The funeral services was conducted from the Marlinton Methodist Church by her pastor, the Rev. Earle N. Carlson.

Miss Lizzie was a daughter of the late Levi and Amanda Poage Waugh. She is survived by two brothers, George H., of Marlinton, and Grover of Akron, Ohio; three sisters, Mrs. C. E. Denison, of Marlinton; Mrs. Lulu Williams of Huntington, and Mrs. William Clower, of Rainelle. A brother, Harlow, preceded her in January of this year, and two sisters, Mrs. Annie Baxter and Mrs. Sally Denison, some years ago.

In religion Miss Lizzie was a Methodist, and for more than thirty years sh was in charge of the Primary Department of the Sunday School of the Marlinton Methodist Church. There she touched for good hundreds of young people in the formative period of their lives.

For. forty-four years Miss Lizzie Waugh was an efficient member of the staff in the printing office of the Pocahontas Times; retiring only a few weeks before her death.

Left motherless at an early age and the eldest of a large family, Miss Lizzie did well her part in assisting to hold together and bring up the children.

True and loyal, faithful and persistent were the characteristics of this truly good woman.

The active pall bearers, all former Sunday School pupils were: Charles Richardson, Harry Lynn Sheets, Walter Mason, Edward Rexrode, Arden G. Killingsworth, and Paul R. Overholt.

Honorary pall bearers were: A. H. McFerrin, J. A. Sydenstricker S. J. Rexrode, L. G. Simmons, Fred Gehauf, and Calvin W. Price.

The flower bearers were: Mrs. Mabel Hudson, Mrs. Lura Brill, Mrs. Mabel Hogsett, Miss Mabel Lang, Mrs. Libby Rexrode, Mrs. Erna Johnson, Miss Anna Lee Ervine, Mrs. Anna Thomas, Miss Evelyn Withers, Mrs. Orda Smith and Mrs. Annas Cole Row.

I would like to see them.

TL thought I would have been down there before this time; I intended to come to Aunt Martha's Saturday, but it was so rainy and cold I did not go.

Well, I suppose I will have to close as I have run out of news. The election and politics is about all the talk up here, now.

I suppose to-morrow will settle the question. I suppose you and Aunt Martha are getting along very well. If you are you had better stay with her, the girls are getting along well.

Mr. Mathews commenced his school at the Draft this morning, Lula, Mattie & Sallie started. I felt like crying because Miss Lena did not get the school.

Well, I will close for this time; give my love to all the pretty girls you see, and ugly ones too. Don't let anybody see this scribbled up sheet of paper. But put in the stove when you read it. Write soon to your good looking Brother up at Edray and tell me all the news.

Yours truly,
Harlow Waugh

NOTE: The above was furnished Harlow Waugh.

P. S. Please excuse bad writing and spelling composition to. I am coming down soon may be Saturday. I would like to see you tolerably well.

NOTE: Although Uncle Harlow instructed Aunt Lizzie to burn this letter I am glad she did not, because in this one paper alone there are many events and dates about life in the 20's, gatherings, people, and their socials, as seen through the eyes and writing of an 18 year old farm boy.

Dear Sister Lizzie:

We are sorry to learn of your illness and on account of your faithfulness to your church your absence is very noticeable.

We are at this time making our preparation for Rally Day and we could not think of the Sunday School on such an occasion without remembering you especially.

The brotherhood is remembering you in prayer and hopes that you may have an early recovery.

The implicit faith that you have always had in you Lord in time of health as you went about your work in the church and elsewhere, we feel sure, will sustain you in these trying hours.

As we remember you in our prayers on next Sunday we wish you to join us in spirit as we unite our forces to rally to the work that is

Judge H. Roy Waugh

Copied from History of West Virginia, Old and New, and West Virginia Biography, by special staff of writers, The American Historical Society, Inc. Vol. III, 1923.

"H. Roy Waugh, born in Upshur County, West Virginia, 4 January 1897, the son of Homer M. and Melissa J. (Morrison) Waugh, the former of whom was born 19 May 1854, the latter 14 August 1859.

Homer M. Waugh was born in Pocahontas County, this state, a son of James Waugh, whose father, James Waugh, Sr., immigrated from Scotland to America in 1739 and established his residence in Virginia. His son James married Sarah Rebecca McGuire, and the son Samuel married her sister, Ann McGuire. James was a patriot soldier in the War of the Revolution. Jacob Waugh, another of the sons was born in 1809 married Mary Brown, and they became the parents of thirteen children. Homer M. and Melissa J. Waugh became the parents of three children who attained to years of maturity and of the number Judge Waugh of this sketch is the eldest. Ica remains at the parental home. Joy is engaged in business activities at Clearfield, Pennsylvania. Judge Waugh was elected to the bench of the Circuit Court in November 1920, he was a member of the Republican Party. He and his wife belong to the Methodist Church, the Masons and the K of P lodge.

Judge H. Roy Waugh was married 17 October 1905 to Miss Louise P. Newlon, three children Mary, John and Helen.

NOTE: The above was furnished by Mr. Joseph W. Summers of 1130 Windson Ave., Morgantown, W. Va. under date of 21 January 1953. As it does not agree with the records now in my possession and all the writings and W. Va. Blue Book articles will have to gather more information and proof before accepting the above as being true. I. e. James Waugh the second, was but six or eight years old in 1776 and could not have been a soldier. However, his father, James Waugh, the 1st, was a soldier for three years, 1777-78-79, court records have proven this to be a fact. The father of James Waugh, the 1st, was either named John or James and came from Orange County, Virginia, to what is now Pocahontas County about 1765.

NOTE: I believe a line or two was omitted when the para. of H. Roy Waugh was copied. He ran for Governor of West Virginia, lost by a few hundred in the primary in the 1920's./glv Grover S. Waugh born 22 Jun. 1888, married Miss Hattie Chapman. They live in Akron, Ohio and have two children, both being married, Royce having two sons, and Carl, just married in 1950.

McGuire

The two sons of James Waugh I married McGuires, Rebecca and Ann. Where did they come from? In Price's History of Pocahontas County there is mention of only one person of this name (Page 363, Elizabeth Brown married a Mr. McGuire, and lived in Nicholas). I believe the following to be near the truth:

In Captain John Gibson's troops of the western department of Pennsylvania, who saw service during the campaign of the Great Kanawha, which gathered at the Levels of Greenbrier, were two McGuire's, James and Andrew. Perhaps one of these, or both, were impressed by the green river and hills and striking up a friendship with James Waugh or some other member of the expedition, decided to settle up the Greenbrier and did so, after the war. Their children may have been our Ann and Rebecca. However, they may have moved to Augusta County at the close of the War of Independence.

We do have a record of the following McGuire's who served in the Revolutionary War; from Virginia and entitled to land grants were: Andrew McGuire, Private; Dennis McGuire, Private; Conner McGuire, Private; Matthew McGuire, Private; William McGuire, Lieutenant. From Pennsylvania also receiving land grants from the new United States Government were: Patrick McGuire, Private; Mathew McGuire, Lieutenant; Merry McGuire, Lieutenant from South Carolina; Andrew McGuire, Private; Thomas and Daniel McGuire, Privates (brothers); James McGuire, Private; Bartholomew McGuire, Private; William McGuire, Private. It is safe to assume that from one of these McGuire's came the two who became the daughters-in law of James I and therefore the entire Waugh clan as we know it from then on down to the present time.

Besides his children he is survived by two brothers, Beverly and John, two sisters, Mrs. Eveline Johnson and Mrs. Ann Potts, all reside in the county except Mrs. Potts, who lives at Elkins.

The deceased was of a very quiet disposition. For several years past he has been making his home here, dividing his time among his three daughters, and sometimes visiting other children. In 1855 he was converted at a camp-meeting being held at Millpoint and united with the M. E. Church. Shortly afterwards a motion was made in the conference to grant him license to preach, the motion being made by the late Rev. James Moore. On account of his reticent disposition, however, he declined the offer to enter the ministry.

His father, too, objected because of his youthfulness. When the church was divided he cast his lot with the southern branch of the denomination, but probably against his religious judgment, for after that time he never took an active part in church work although he retained his membership in the church. Through life he always lived up to his motto which can be found in James 1:27*.

*James 1:27. Pure religion and undefiled before God and the Father is this, To visit the fatherless and widows in their affliction, and to keep himself unspotted from the world.

Dear Sister:

I thought I would write you a few lines today as it is raining and I can't do anything else. We are all well at this time with the exception of bad colds; hope you are well.

The protracted meeting is still going on at Edray yet. But I expect it will close to-night, there has been eight professions; they were Annie & Lula, Levi Gibson, Ruth Barlow, Birdie Baxter, Mary Gay, Hamid Gay's Mary, Bill Mann and Albert Gay, Mattie Payne and Wallace Jackson are mourners, they went forward last night. I think it will close tonight, the weather is so disagreeable people can't go that has far to go.

You ought to have been at home last Sunday a week. We had one of the biggest times you ever heard of, Uncle Dick Mayes and Mr. Ed Summers were here. Mr. Summers is agent for organs; they had two organs with them; he was the best organist I ever heard play. I will try to tell you who all were if I can think of them all: First, A. J. Smith, Ida & Allie Smith, Mattie Payne, Miss Nora Bobbet, Sam Waugh, Ab. Mann, Hanson Mann, Bill Gum, Will Morgan, Audry Smith, Wier Landis, Pres Baxter, Chas. Waugh, Pat Poage, Mr. Uriah Bird, Mrs. Taylor, Mirandy McNeel, Allie Barlow, Uncle John, Stella & Dew, D. Waugh and family, and William Wade. I think that is about all, it is all I can think of at this time, Mr. Summers is from Chicago, Ill., the price of his organs were $150.00 each, nice organs you bet.

Edgar Sharp & Mary Gay were married last Thursday, John Gay, Effie Moore, Adam Baxter & Mattie Payne were the waiters; they made no big dinner nor nothing of the kind. Bill's, D. Poage's and Uncle John's were about all that were invited. Uncle John is getting along very well with his house, it looks like another place about their now. We are not done shucking corn yet. Pattersons folks are all well: I was down there Sunday afternoon; Miss Tokie is there now.

I will have to tell you who Tima's & Lula's Beaux are; William Morgan goes with Lula; Andy Smith with Tima; they bring them home from meeting about every other night. I have no Betsey myself. Do you ever see Miss Lena K. & Dollia B*
